RESPONSIBLE HOSPITALITY

SOME TIPS

Sensitizing guests and staff to a moderate use of water and energy resources is a priority but the change starts with you and the environmental policy you choose to adopt in your accommodation.

IN THE LAUNDRY ROOM

BECAUSE HYGIENE IS ESSENTIAL BUT NOT THE WASTE THAT CAN RESULT FROM IT

- Make sure the machines are full before use.
- Wash small quantities in small 5 kg machines.
- Periodically check for leaks from the drain valves.
- Minimize rinsing without reducing quality standards.

THE SPA

RELAX BUT MAKE IT SUSTAINABLE

Running a spa involves significant water consumption per user, so it is necessary to properly consider how this could affect the availability of water for other members of the community. It is therefore a good idea to check the meter morning and evening, as well as perform visual checks on all the pipes.

DEVELOP A CORPORATE ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Promote it on your communication channels, transmit it to your staff and tell your guests about it. Inspire them and make them participate in an ethical and transformative journey that is much more than a stay in an accommodation. Let them find the regulation in the room or a message inviting them to learn more about the eco-ethical regulation of the accommodation.
